

Focus on what matters

QIAGEN's FDA approved therascreen[®] EGFR RGQ PCR Kit now detects even more clinically validated mutations

It is crucial to target mutations that have the most clinical value

QIAGEN® understands the importance of identifying and targeting mutations of clinical interest for non-small cell lung cancer (NSCLC) patients. With the recent approval of GILOTRIF® to treat patients with additional EGFR mutations, our therascreen EGFR test now covers even more clinically validated mutations than any other commercially available PCR-based assay.

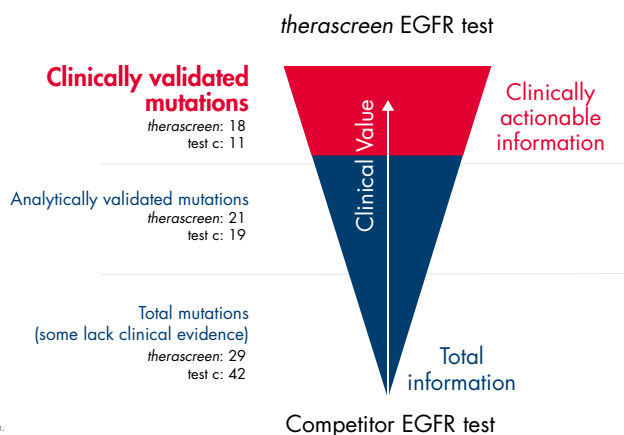

Clinically actionable information is what helps treat patients

Focus on what really matters when testing for EGFR mutations, to make the best therapeutic decisions

* Analytically validated mutations with clinical outcome data from LUX-Lung 2, LUX-Lung 6, LUX-Lung 3, IFUM, AURA2 and EURTAC clinical trials.

Detect more clinically validated mutations

- Focus on what matters: QIAGEN helps oncologists interpret data by focusing on mutations that are clinically relevant.
- Our therascreen EGFR test detects more clinically validated mutations than any other commercially available PCR-based test:
 - 18 clinically validated EGFR mutations (vs. 11 from test c)
 - 21 analytically validated EGFR mutations (vs. 19 from test c)†*

Proven NSCLC solutions

- FDA approved: QIAGEN's therascreen EGFR test has been clinically validated and is approved for use with two major lung cancer therapies: IRESSA® and GILOTRIF
- Versatile and complete solutions: QIAGEN's complete Sample to Insight workflow includes a wide range of molecular tools and user friendly software to address various needs of oncology testing laboratories
